BULLETIN

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—From the cabin of the "City of Chicago" as it whirled toward its 21st day on the wing John and Kenneth Hunter broadcast a cheery "hello" to the world today and chatted with the rest of the Hunter family who watched and listened at the airport below.

It was the first time a radio broadcast had been attempted by dropping a microphone from a radio-equipped contact plane.

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—The Hunters will fly on "so long as fabric and metal hold together."
So said Walter Hunter, junior half of the ground crew, as the "City of Chicago" circled above Sky Harbor today, 58 hours ahead of the world's refueling endurance flight record.
At 2:40 P. M. (CST) John and Kenneth Hunter dipped in recognition of another hour elapsed—479 hours of uninterrupted flight. They were only 21 hours from the 500-hour mark, but there will be no stopping then if human brains and skill and the veteran ship hold out.

There had been gossip of a landing at that 500-hour post, or on the Fourth of July, or Saturday or Monday, but Walter answered a questioner today:
"So long as fabric and metal hold together."
There was some difficulty on the 17th contact this morning with the refueling plane, the "Big Ben" and a hasty conference was held by the three members of the ground crew—Walter, Albert and Irene, the sister. They considered moving the fight to another airport in search of better weather, for a steady drizzle was falling at Sky Harbor. But they were told unofficially they could not do so.

Casey Jones, official observer of the flight for the National Aeronautical Association, called Chairman Luke Christopher of the N. A. A. Chicago committee. Christopher said the rule that the fliers must land on the field from which they took off can not be suspended.

Fliers Tell Of Experiences In "City of Chicago"

The United Press presents herewith an exclusive signed story by John and Kenneth Hunter, brother endurance fliers, who have shattered all previous records for sustained refueling flights and still circle over Sky Harbor airport piling hour on hour to their credit. The story was written under difficulties in the small, oil-soaked cabin of the City of Chicago in answer to questions sent yesterday by a United Press staff correspondent.)

World's Record Endurance Fliers

Copyright 1930 by the United Press

Over Sky Harbor Airport, Chicago, July 1—(UP)—There isn't much amusement for us flying around up here breaking all the records on the books.

Mostly we have to work taking on fuel and piloting and dodging the thunderstorms that have come so fast the last few days.

No, we don't get much sleep. From one to five hours at a time and then just as likely as not the one who is sleeping will be routed out before he has much more than got his eyes shut.

We don't know for sure now how we feel. Kinda dead like. Not so good.

The first thing we'll do when we get down will be to get a good long sleep on a regular bed. Sleeping up here is not so hot.

Well, it's hard to say how long we'll stay up. Maybe 520 hours but we think probably longer. Only the weather knows.

Yes, we'll try to beat the next record if this one is beaten. We intend to bring it back to Chicago and keep it here.

No about that food question. We don't feel so good now but like to eat chicken. Because it flies, too, we guess. Hot dogs and hard-boiled eggs are regular he-man food for fliers and we've asked for more and better service along that line.

DIXON POLICE RESCUED SICK MAN FROM COLD BATH AND A POSSIBLE SUICIDE IN ROCK RIVER THIS A. M.

Despondent and suffering from ill health, a resident of the west end of Dixon was reported to have attempted suicide by drowning in Rock river about 5 o'clock this morning. Police were notified at 5 o'clock that a man was wading out into the river and acting strangely. Officers responded to the call on West First street and upon their arrival discovered the man wading about in the water some distance from shore, apparently undetermined on his next move.

Believing that the man might drown himself if he discovered that

INJURY FATAL TO L. E. EDWARDS

EMBOLISM IS CAUSE DEATH THIS MORNING

Result Of Injuries He Received In Crash At Knoxville

Dixon people were shocked at noon today when word was received from Knoxville, Tenn., of the sudden death of Lewis E. Edwards, who passed away at St. Mary's hospital in that city at 11 o'clock this forenoon. An embolism which formed following injuries sustained in an automobile accident last Wednesday culminated in his sudden and unexpected passing.

Mr. Edwards, his wife and daughter, Miss Helen, were enjoying a vacation automobile trip through the south. Wednesday morning while they were enroute from Greenville to Knoxville in the Tennessee mountains, a car entered the main highway from a side road and crashed into the side of the Edwards car. Miss Helen and Mrs. Edwards occupied the front seat and Mr. Edwards was alone in the rear seat. The big sedan was turned over and almost demolished. Mr. Edwards sustaining a fracture of the hip and minor cuts and bruises. Mrs. Edwards and daughter sustained only minor injuries, but all were taken to St. Mary's hospital at Knoxville for treatment.

Fracture Reduced.

The hospital examination of Mr. Edwards injuries disclosed the fracture of the hip bone and he was at once placed in a plaster cast. It was expected that he would be confined to the hospital for at least six weeks before being able to be removed to Dixon. His condition, however, was very encouraging and his sudden passing this morning came as a distinct shock to his family as well as a host of friends. His son, Winston Edwards left for Knoxville at noon today to be with his mother and sister. It is expected that the body will be sent to Dixon, arriving probably late Thursday.

Lewis E. Edwards was born and raised in Dixon and had made this city his home during his entire lifetime. He celebrated his sixty-third birthday last May. As a young man he was a traveling salesman, but about 35 years ago gave up this vocation and opened up the book store in this city which he has continued to operate since.

Prominent Mason.

Mr. Edwards was one of the prominent Masons of Illinois. He was a member of all of the local Masonic bodies, having served as Worshipful Master of Friendship Lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M. and as Eminent Commander of Dixon Commandery, No. 21, Knights Templar. He was a member of the Freeport Consistory, and of Tebala Temple, O. A. O. N. M. S. of Rockford. In 1927 he was honored by appointment to the position of Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Illinois by Grand Commander Glen F. Coe. He had served 23 consecutive years as Prelate of the Dixon Commandery. He was also a member of the Dixon lodge of Elks.

Endurance Flight Family Affair

Chicago's record-breaking endurance flight in which four brothers are participating—two in the endurance plane and two in the refueling plane—is indeed a family affair because Irene Hunter, a sister, prepares the food that is sent up to the tireless fliers. These pictures show Miss Hunter carrying a juicy chicken and the endurance ship, piloted by Kenneth and John Hunter, being refueled from above by a flying cameraman for the Dixon Evening Telegraph and NEA Service, shows a contact being made; below, just as the two ships parted.

TWO DRY AGENTS QUIT; HOLD LAW IS IMPOSSIBLE

Both Advocate Repeal Of 18th Amendment In Statements

Toledo, O., July 1—(UP)—Asserting that "the enforcement of the prohibition law is a failure experiment," and that "the government can hardly hope to successfully enforce the law now, or in the future," William H. O'Neill, chief of the enforcement division of Toledo and northwestern Ohio, today announced his resignation from office.

O'Neill's resignation, effectively immediately, occurs simultaneously with the reorganization of the federal prohibition system—the transfer of the enforcement department from the supervision of the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice. O'Neill will be succeeded by William F. Brennan.

New York, July 1—(AP)—Major Maurice Campbell, until today Prohibition Administrator for New York, advocates the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

He resigned when ordered to Boston to take charge of alcohol permits under the Treasury Department in the reorganization of the prohibition forces which transferred enforcement to the Department of Justice.

AP STAFF WRITER DESCRIBES THRILL OF REFUELING PLANE WHICH IS ESTABLISHING MARK

Is Next Thing To Being Marooned Aloft A Waterspout

(The following story was written by Ruth Baldwin Cowan, Associated Press staff writer, who went aloft with Walter and Albert Hunter in the plane, the "Big Ben," to refuel the "City of Chicago.")

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—The next thing to being marooned aloft a waterspout in a canoe is being in the refueling plane, the "Big Ben," 2,000 feet up, when the "City of Chicago," roaring along at 75 miles an hour, heaves up underneath to be refilled with gasoline.

The fact that, Walter and Albert Hunter have 174 times successfully refueled the endurance plane, which their brothers—John and Kenneth—have piloted to a new world's refueling-endurance record, doesn't add a thing to comfort—especially when they select a graveyard over which to maneuver.

The first queer sensation came when the sudden discovery on the ground that the reason the "Big Ben" doesn't look like other cabin planes is because somebody has removed the right door. But while picturing what would happen if the plane did a ten-degree barrel-roll—there being no straps to hang onto—Albert issued the order to slice up front.

Hard To Find Seat.

To do this it was necessary to get past a huge tank which supplies fuel for the "Big Ben"—the rear end of the plane being used to carry the gasoline for the refueling—and so taking a front seat was accomplished head first in the undignified fashion of going under a barbed wire fence.

After getting righted in a spare two feet square and minding stern orders not to touch knobs and things an impromptu seat was devised with a spare cushion on a battery box alongside the pilot's place. There was no use worrying about how to exit suddenly.

The food and supplies to be dropped to the endurance plane were packed in strong canvas bags to which a rope was tied. When these were placed in the fuselage, Walter did a Houdini to the pilot's seat, but Albert crouched out of the draft of the open doorway, carefully guarding the food bags and holding onto a strut.

Fine Progress On New Street Works

The Hicks Construction Company is making rapid progress on the new improvement in front of the high school building. The pouring of the cement sidewalk from Peoria avenue west to the athletic field will probably be completed this afternoon. The curb and gutter for the reinforced concrete paving along the 600 foot stretch has been poured and it is expected that by the close of the week the greater part of the cement paving will be poured.

Contractor D. L. Heagy will complete the pouring of concrete at the north approach to the new Peoria avenue bridge this week and will move his equipment to the south side. Material is being hauled across the new bridge to the mixer for the completion of the work at the north approach. The grading of the south approach has been completed and is being allowed to settle for the paving.

BOY SWIMMER DROWNS

Hillsboro, Ill., July 1—(UP)—William Guy, 15, Hillsboro, drowned today while swimming in a lake near here. He is believed to have suffered from cramps while swimming near the middle of the lake.

The U. S. Navy Department believes that the level of the Pacific Ocean is slightly higher than the Atlantic.

DIXON WOMAN'S AUTO WAS STOLEN FROM PUBLIC GARAGE IN CHICAGO MONDAY MORNING; THIEF CAUGHT

A Chevrolet sedan belonging to Mrs. H. W. Burns, 504 Hennepin avenue, who with her son is visiting relatives in Chicago, was stolen early Monday morning from a public garage, it was learned here last evening when Chief J. D. Van Bibber received word from the police of Summit, a suburb of Chicago that a 17-year-old bandit, giving the name of Charles Sakas, was arrested by the Summit police late yesterday afternoon while driving the stolen car. When searched the lad was carrying an automatic revolver.

Mrs. Burns had left the car in a private garage and Saturday night the door was forced open and an attempt made to remove the car. The attempted theft was abandoned after

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Constantin "Black Joe" Grediner, residing east of the city on route 2, narrowly escaped being killed instantly at 11:15 this morning as he drove onto the Northwestern switch tracks on First street west of the Brown Shoe Company plant. He has been employed by Contractor D. L. Heagy in hauling sand and gravel from the Risley pits to the mixer for the completion of the approach to the new Peoria avenue bridge.

He was driving east, his truck loaded with sand and gravel, and apparently did not observe the Northwestern switch engine approaching. The truck was demolished, being almost cut in two. The driver escaped without a scratch.

ON STATE CHARGES

H. C. Becker, formerly of Dixon and now residing east of the city, was arrested yesterday afternoon in Lowell park where State Highway Officer Hal Roberts found him lying in a ditch. He was taken to the county jail and locked up. Becker will be taken into the County Court this afternoon to answer to a charge of violation of parole, he having been paroled a few months ago following a liquor raid at his home in the west end of the city.

Fred Donaldson, arrested Saturday night, June 21, was also to be taken into the County Court this afternoon to answer to an information charging him with operating a motor vehicle on a public highway while in an intoxicated condition. He was arrested by State Highway Officer Hal Roberts near the Hill school on the Rock Island road.

FRANK FOSTER CAPTURED WITH THREE OF PALS

Arrested In Los Angeles; Alleged "Putter" Also Apprehended

Chicago, July 1—(UP)—Frank Foster, the man who bought six snub-nosed pistols like the one used in the assassination of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, is under arrest with three of his henchmen in Los Angeles, Calif.

Foster's arrest was reported today to Pat Roche, in charge of investigating the Lingle murder. Roche told the United Press he would attempt to have the suspect returned immediately to Chicago for questioning, although he understands that Foster will resist extradition.

According to Roche's information Foster's companions in Los Angeles are Frank Fisher, George Davis and Marvin Hart, members of the west side flank of the Chicago Moran gang.

"There is an outside chance that one of the three men may be 'Red' Forsythe," Roche said. "I am ask-

Body of 42nd Gang Victim Of Year Found

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—The body of a man, dead of bullet wounds, was found on the bank of the Des Plaines river today near Riverside. He was apparently an Italian, and police believe he was number 42 on the growing casualty list of the year's gang wars.

The man had been dead about ten hours. His body was clad in dark trousers and white shirt with blue stripes, and he wore a grey cap and tennis shoes.

Because of the tennis shoes and cap the Riverside police suggested the victim might be "Red" Bolton, notorious west side saloon keeper and gangster, who wears such garb in the summer.

ing Los Angeles to send finger prints."

Forsythe is the man police believe did the actual killing with a gun which he had obtained from Foster.

ALLEGED "PUTTER CAUGHT"

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—One of the men particularly sought in the Lingle murder case walked unsuspecting and unexpected into the arms of the law last night.

He is Grover Dillard, they say he is a gunman, a beer peddler and a "Bugs" Moran gangster. But what they say with special pertinence is that he is the man who trailed Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter, on the day Lingle was slain, and that he "put the finger" on Lingle—pointed him out to the man who actually fired the murder bullet.

It may even develop, detectives intimated, that Dillard provided the short-barreled .38 calibre revolver the assassin dropped beside the reporter's body as it lay in the Illinois Central subway under Michigan Avenue at Randolph Street.

Dillard was arrested with eight others, including a young woman, in a raid by State's Attorney's men on the loop headquarters of the "Moran Mob." The offices have been under surveillance for some time.

Walked In On Raid

Dillard was not present when the officers entered. He walked in while the raid was in progress. The officers, police said, are the "pay-off" headquarters for the Moran men. A book containing 150 names, presumably of gangsters, was thrown from a window as the police entered. It later was recovered.

Another raid was made a few minutes afterward on a room in the Commonwealth Hotel on the north side. Two men were arrested. A third raid, resulted in the arrest of Jack Zuta, known as the operator of a string of west side resorts, and as a recent ally of George (Bugs) Moran.

The police policy of "action not talk" prevented newspapermen from obtaining full information as to the purposes of the several arrests—there were 15 altogether—but the officers gave reporters the impression that information vital to the Lingle inquiry was expected from at least some of those seized.

"Shake-Down" Evidence

Officials indicated their investigation had brought forth substantiation of rumors which named Lingle as attempting to "shake down" the operators of the Sheridan Wave gambling club, promising them police protection in return for certain sums.

According to the account as told to the authorities, Lingle demanded 45 per cent of the gambling house (Continued on page 2).

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. Arthur Bauman, of Chicago, sang "I Love You Truly." The bride's father gave her in marriage and the bride's sister, Mrs. William Herrmann played the Lohengrin wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon and lace and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Creagan, of Chicago, was in chartreuse organdy and had a corsage of roses. Harold Burke, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony, Mrs. Bauman sang "At Dawning."

A wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Rice in DeKalb to 50 guests, after which the couple left on a two weeks' wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from the Steward high school, St. Mary's Academy, of Graceville, Minn., and the Southern Illinois State Teachers college at Normal. For the last several years she has been teaching in Chicago schools.

Mr. Burke attended Loyola university, Chicago, and is now with the Foreman National bank. They will make their home in Chicago.

To Marry Fourth Time, and the Last!

Reno, Nevada, July 1.—(UP)—Mrs. Eugenia Bankhead Hoyt, daughter of Congressman W. B. Bankhead of Alabama, will be married tonight for her fourth, and, she says, her last time. Mrs. Hoyt, whose marriage to Wilford Lawson Hoyt was annulled yesterday, will be married to Howard Lee, stock broker and aviator of Dallas, Texas.

"This will be my last trip to Reno—from now on I'm married for keeps", she said today as arrangements were made for the wedding. Her first marriage was in 1920 to Morton Hoyt, former Solicitor General at Washington. In 1926 they were divorced, remarried a few months later and were divorced again in 1929, after which she married Butte.

SCHUMANN-HEINK'S FAREWELL.

Madame Schumann-Heink, whose voice has spilled liquid magic through the years, knows that some day now she will sing her last song. Some day she must face her last audience, and for the final time bring laughter and tears and perhaps a little heartache as she sings.

But she does not intend to see that final audience leave the theater, slowly and reverently. She does not want to hear its last congratulations. Instead, her soul will be gone on the last triumphant note of song, if she has her wish.

For Schumann-Heink has said that she will sing into the last. She wants her last breath to be a note of music. And then she would like to slip back of the stage, into the wings, and die quietly. It might embarrass the people in the audience if she died on the stage before them, she says. And she wants her going away to be as simple and lovely as her music has always been.

... The stage lights will shine with golden glamour, the velvet curtains will swing to with that intimate rustle, and the audience will applaud. The great contralto won't come back for an encore, though. That will be the only difference between that last concert that she has arranged for some day, and the thousands of others, she has given, if her wish is fulfilled.

The plans of the gray-haired prima donna for that inevitable departure are very beautiful. There is something queenly, something almost royal, in going to death straight from the stage of action. It makes the going away a gallant gesture.

Playing the game to the end is always a challenge. No matter how lowly the task may be, there is a fine courage in those who keep trust.

Schuman-Heink, if she has her wish, will count her last breath in songbeats, not in heartbeats. She will not spoil the concert. She will make her departure easier for everyone, as a good trouper should always do. That is the code of the game.

The famous artist has drawn her crowds from cities where music halls sent spangled lights across the sky; from villages where men and women went to do their shopping and stayed to listen to the shining, golden voice that wove wonder across the street; from small towns and crossroads; from those whose heads carried crowns, and those who wore faded hats because the cost of a new one had gone for the cherished ticket.

The world which admires the courage of those who play to the end hopes that Schumann-Heink may have her wish, that she may sing until the curtain falls.

But it wonders if there will be a moment just before, when it will sense the closing drama, that it may ring out its hail, well done, and long farewell, as her soul goes quietly away on the breath of a song.

A NEW SLANT ON THE TREATY.

There are half a dozen different angles from which one can view the pending London naval treaty. One that is bound to stimulate a bit of thought is that presented by George Young, former attaché in the British diplomatic service, in a recent speech at the University of Chicago.

Asserting that airplanes and submarines have brought in a new set of circumstances, Mr. Young declares:

"The new warfare has killed the old private war blockade, with all its concomitants of contraband and the right of search. It has killed the battleship and crippled the cruiser, and all this squibbling over cruisers is a battle of Tweedle-dum and Tweedle-dee.

"If you, like men, had known your children were spending their nights in the cellar every dark of the moon in a probably vain effort to escape airplane and Zeppelin bombs, or if you knew, as I do, that now one such airplane bomb can destroy all life in central London, and that it can't be stopped from doing so, why you wouldn't be worrying about whether cruisers had six-inch or eight-inch guns."

"A sports writer," says one of them, "has an audience hanging on his words." Which seems to be the only alternative for those who have placed bets on sports writers' hunches—and lost.

A French scientist has announced a plan of harnessing the energy of the Gulf Stream. Well, he has a strong current to begin with.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERN

The Russian train was quite a sight and tickled Clowdy Tinymite. Said he, "This sure is different than the trains we have at home. It's funny how you get so thrilled over trains that are of different build. It seems we find a new sort in most every place we roam."

The Travel Man then said, "My boy, it's different things that put the joy in any sort of journey. That's why we have all had fun in every town of every size. A change brings forth a grand surprise. Just like our trains, however, it is steam that makes this run."

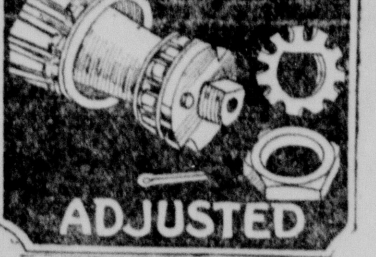

"Oh, I would like to go up front. I think "would be a dandy stunt," cried Carpy. "Let's all hike up to the engine cabin now. The engineer won't start to rave, if we are careful and behave. If he is shoveling coal we might turn in and help somehow."

So, through a lot of trains they ran and shortly found the engine man. He let them come into his cab for just a little while. "No help is needed now," said he. "But you can sit and ride with me." And so they sat real quiet as they moved land in grand Odessa. It's a mile or so ahead." And, sure enough with quite a shout, they reached the depot and jumped out. They promptly found a fine cafe where they were nicely fed.

Then, after eating, they went round and on a quiet street they found a funny little toy shop. "Walk right in," somebody cried. It was the toy man. He was kind, because he said, "I do not mind if you all watch me make my toys. Stand right here by my side."

sophical and mathematical reputation that he lives in history.

Entering the university at the age of 15, Leibnitz received his bachelor's degree two years later when he procured his remarkable thesis "On the Principle of Individuation." In 1670, at the age of 24, after he had studied law, he was appointed assessor on the bench of the upper court of appeals, which was the supreme court of appeals.

An interesting sidelight on the man's versatility may be had in a military memorandum he drew up while in Paris. He proposed a plan for the invasion of Egypt with a view to submitting it to Louis XIV. His real intention in this memorandum was to divert Louis's attention from plans against Germany. The king never received the document. It remained for Napoleon to make the invasion of Egypt in 1798, and to discover five years later that he had been anticipated in his plan by Leibnitz.

After publishing his greatest philosophical work, "Theodicy," Leibnitz engaged in a controversy with Newton concerning the discovery of differential calculus. In this work, however, it was later revealed that both men had made original contributions.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS PROGRAM FOR FRIDAY RACES IS COMPLETED

Fans Promised Some Interesting Contests At Lowell Park

Final arrangements for the outboard motor boat races July 4 were being made at Lowell park today. The course has been surveyed and the boats were being weighted and placed in the river marking the two and one-half mile speedway over which 50 racing craft will contest for prizes Friday afternoon. Special landing piers have also been constructed for the accommodation of the racing drivers, where their craft will be quartered.

Commodore A. E. MacGavin of the Illinois-Indiana Outboard Association of Chicago, will officiate as official referee and starter at the races which will feature the attraction at Lowell park on the afternoon of the Fourth. Drivers have been notified that the course will be at their disposal during the forenoon Friday for the limbering up of their engines. The first race will be called at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and no trial trips will be permitted over the course. The following have been selected as officials of the race meet and will occupy the stand which will be located on the diving pier:

Judges—Charles E. Miller, Tom Mitchell, Grover Wilhelm, Chester Barriage and Earl C. Kennedy.

Timers—Tim Sullivan, Arthur C. Bowers, M. H. Bacon.

Announcer—Chester Barriage.

Club Had Meeting.

A meeting of the members of the Dixon-Sterling Outboard Club was held last evening at the Cromwell Electric Shop for the purpose of making final arrangements for the races. Chester Barriage has perfected a loud-speaking device which will eliminate the old style megaphone in the introduction of the drivers of the various craft, their positions in each of the races, the prize winners of each event and other interesting facts relating to the program. Several loud speakers will be placed at advantageous places about the beach with the master device in the judges stand. All information furnished the spectators will be imparted through this system of power transmitters.

All of the prizes which are to be distributed to the winners of the several race events at the Friday meet were placed on exhibition this morning in the display window at the Train jewelry store. The members of the recently organized Dixon-Sterling Outboard club who have promoted the races, have been notified to report at Lowell park Friday morning at 9 o'clock to assist in putting on the finishing touches for the first race program of the season.

Through an error the name of the Dixon Theater was omitted from the list of donors of prizes to the Outboard Club last evening.

Rockford Races Off.

It was announced here today that the Rockford Outboard Club had abandoned their race meet which was to have been held on the Rock river course at Rockford Sunday, July 6. Many of the owners of racing hulls have decided to bring their craft to Lowell park for the Fourth of July meet and will go from Dixon to Ottawa for a meet on Sunday, July 6.

Arnold LaCour, a member of the committee on racing of the newly organized Outboard club, has completed a fine map showing the advantages of the Lowell park course together with an interesting description of the advantages offered at the natural park, and copies of these have been forwarded to every outboard motor club in Illinois and Indiana. He has also completed a system of markings which will be placed on every state highway entering Dixon Thursday afternoon directing the visiting public to the beautiful Lowell park beach where they may witness the racing program without charge.

Major league standings presented a familiar aspect today with the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Athletics, 1929 pennant winners and favorites in the current race, heading their respective leagues.

Although crippled by the loss of Hal Carson and Rogers Hornsby and injuries to other stars, the Cubs have equalled the pace set in 1929 and now enjoy a larger lead than they held at this stage of last year's campaign.

The Athletics, .990 points below their July 1 percentage in 1929 and with New York, Washington and Cleveland furnishing unexpected stiff opposition, are in a much less favorable position than at this time a year ago.

The standings of the leaders today and July 1, 1929 were:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

July 1, 1930
Philadelphia	46	25	.648 2 games
New York	42	25	.627
Washington	42	25	.627

July 1, 1929

Philadelphia	48	17	.738 8 games
St. Louis	41	26	.612

NATIONAL LEAGUE

July 1, 1930
Chicago	43	26	.623 1 1/2 games
Brooklyn	39	25	.609

Chicago	39	23	.629 1/2 game
Pittsburgh	40	25	.615

season featured the New York Yankees' 15 to 3 victory over the last-place Chicago White Sox.

Cleveland scored five runs in the eighth inning to break a tie and defeat the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 3. Hodapp started a rally with a homer which scored Averill ahead of him.

New York, July 1.—(AP)—Both Wilder Robinson of the Brooklyn Robins and Bob Shawkey of the New York Yankees, have dug into the bankroll to strengthen their clubs for the dash down the major league home stretch.

Robinson announced yesterday that the Robins had purchased Ike Boone slugging outfielder from the Mission Club of the Pacific Coast League, for immediate delivery. Boone is expected to fill a bad hole in left field. He has hit around .440 in more than 70 games this year.

The Yankees, seeking additional pitching strength, secured Ken Holloway, veteran right hander, of the Cleveland Indians, on waivers.

St. Louis, July 1.—(AP)—The Cardinals and Pirates, with all of their regulars back in the lineup, "probably are stronger" than the Giants and the Cubs, in the opinion of Wilbert Robinson, Brooklyn manager, whose team opens a series with the Cardinals today.

Although the Robins have yielded the National League leadership to the Chicago Cubs, Uncle Robbie said he was confident his club would remain in the pennant scramble all season.

"I've been hearing and reading for many weeks that we're due to crack sooner or later," Robinson said, "but the fellows who are picking us to flop better watch their own teams."

Chicago, July 1.—(AP)—So as to offer the still loyal fans their money's worth, both Independence Day games between the White Sox and the St. Louis Browns will be played in an afternoon doubleheader.

For many years, the two games have been played in the morning and afternoon but the White Sox are imbedded in the American League cellar and bargain prices were decided upon.

So far this year, the drawing power of the Cubs and White Sox are as different as their standings in their respective leagues. The Cubs are breaking attendance records in their successful pennant drive; the White Sox are having lean days at the gate.

JULY WILL BE BUSY MONTH IN OUTBOARD RACES

Boats Will Be Thick As Fleas On Lakes And Rivers Of Nation

Tiny outboard racing boats will be as thick as fleas on a dog on the lakes and rivers of the country this month. July will offer a wealth of regatta dates to the pilots of the little power boats including several of the biggest cash prize events ever staged and many will be in a quandary as to where to compete as several choice events will be held on the same day.

The Mecca towards which all drivers of the country are expected to turn on July 27 will be Fox Lake, Illinois, where the Chain-O-Lakes Outboard Club will stage a 100 mile marathon with $1,500 in cash prizes for Division III drivers and a like amount in trophies for the amateurs who compete. Never before has so much prize money been offered in a single outboard event and the purses that have been posted by Commodore O. J. Mullenback are expected to act like a magnet in drawing the outstanding drivers to Fox Lake.

Most of the drivers who compete are expected to enter in the free-for-all division of the marathon. The first three to finish in this division will receive $500, $300, and $100 respectively. However, special cash prizes will be offered to those drivers who wish to enter the class B and class C divisions. At least 150 racers are expected to face the starter's barge for this event.

July 4, 5 and 6 will see at least twenty events of major importance staged for outboard drivers. At Muscatine, Iowa, on the 4th of July, the Mid-west Outboard Association will hold its biggest event of the year. Mile trials will be run off in the morning and the races will start at 1:00 P. M. on a course laid out on the Mississippi river by government engineers. Races will be staged for drivers using B, C, D and F motors who will compete for $1,000 in prizes and the Hanley, Tobin and Holleran trophies.

On July 4 and 5, the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association will stage its annual regatta at Madison, Indiana, on the Ohio River. Mile trials and races for every type of boat and motor will be offered power boat enthusiasts with events for professional drivers predominating. A boat show will be held in conjunction with the regatta which should attract drivers from all parts of the Mid-west.

CHICAGO—Baseball club owners of the American Association met here today to discuss the introduction of a split season in the league. Under the plan to be voted by the owners, the second half of the season would open July 7, and pennants would be awarded both in July and at the end of the regular season.

CHICAGO—If Johnny Risko or Tuffy Griffith commit a foul in their 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night, each spectator will be returned a part of the cost of his ticket. Both boxers have agreed to forfeit their purse if they are guilty of a foul and the purse will be used for refund to customers, it was announced.

NEW YORK—Eddie Murdock, Tulsa, Okla., lightweight, has been matched with Solly Ritz of New York, for a 10-round bout at Dexter Park Arena July 7.

NEW YORK—Refusal of Joe Jacobs to give Madison Square Garden an option on Max Schmeling's services in his next two ring appearances today delayed the signing of contracts for a return bout between Schmeling and Jack Sharkey at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 25.

Vice-President Frank Bruen wants Jacobs to promise the Garden Schmeling's exclusive services for another year, while Jacobs refuses to sign for more than one bout.

PARIS—Richard Klein, who promoted the Jess Willard-Jake Johnson heavyweight championship bout at Havana in 1915, told the United Press today he was prepared to stage a fight between Jack Dempsey and either Max Schmeling, Jack Sharkey or Phil Scott within three months after the trio settle their dispute over the world heavyweight title.

"Dempsey could regain the title fighting with one hand and wearing kid gloves," said Klein.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Cattle prices have declined every day for nearly two weeks, with most grades now selling about $2 lower than on the strong spot early in June, the Prairie Farmer's market review said.

"Receipts have diminished slightly in the last 10 days, but not enough as yet to stay the decline, the review said. "Dressed beef trade has shown no improvement, as demand is slow and coolers are congested. Stock yards interests have finally appealed to producers to hold back shipments until some of the excess of beef can be cleaned up.

"After a small mid-June rally, hog prices declined rather sharply, reaching the lowest level since early in January. Receipts have increased in the last 10 days and are about 10 per cent over the corresponding period last year. Fresh pork prices have been declining for the last 10 days as a result of slow consumer demand.

"Prices for lambs rallied but the upturn was of short duration. A small gap in receipts at leading markets caused the temporary show of strength. The wool market remains steady on some grades and strong to slightly higher on others.

"The June break in wheat prices carried them to the lowest level in recent years with the exception of a short time at the end of May, 1929.

Extreme weakness in security markets and in other commodity prices exerted some sympathetic effect on market stocks.

"The decline in feed grain prices has carried them to the lowest level at this season in several years. Speculative pressure was a prominent cause of the decline particularly in the corn market. In spite of increased receipts in recent weeks, speculative demand for corn has been active enough to take all the arrivals and make constant inroads on market stocks.

"Good pastures and widespread use of green feed has lessened demand for hay in most sections.

"Fresh egg prices stiffened a little as receipts at the leading markets gave evidence of some shrink in the production. It is improbable that any advance of consequence will occur this year, due to the abundant supplies available.

"Butter production is running ahead of last year. Prices continue low."

Farming Factors

BY CECIL OWEN

United Press Farm Editor
WASHINGTON —(UP)— World population trends studied by Department of Agriculture experts offer striking evidence that farmers are to have a diminishing ratio of mouths to feed in future years.

In the opinion of Dr. O. E. Baker, economist and statistician, the United States within a few decades will be entirely dependent on immigration for an increase in population.

Within 50 to 75 years, Dr. Baker believes, the population of the United States will be stationary at somewhere between 175 and 200 million persons. From the 121,000,000 population today, the United States will in 1940 have about 138,000,000 inhabitants, in 1950 about 152,000,000 and in 1975 about 174,000,000.

Coupled with increasing efficiency in agricultural production and the fact that less than half the 973,000,000 acres of tillable land is low in crops, the Malthusian doctrine that population would one day outstrip food supplies seems to be thoroughly discredited.

On the contrary, modern machinery and birth control have completely reversed the traditional viewpoint and the world in future years faces a continuing over abundance of foodstuffs unless some unforeseen checks on production appear.

At present the United States has three acres of crops per person. Figuring on this basis, and ignoring the probable further increase in production efficiency, the United States will need to develop 160,000,000 more acres of land for crops before its population reaches the stationary point. But it is likely that much of this additional acreage will be made available out of present crop land now growing feed for horses and mules which are certain to be displaced by tractors, trucks and automobiles.

In order that farmers may not waste their efforts trying to raise paying crops on poor land in the face of this decreasing population and increasing efficiency, the Agriculture Department is now engaged in studying and classifying land areas on the basis of their fertility and probable yields in various parts of the country.

"The artificial stimulation of agricultural settlement during the past quarter century," Dr. Baker said, "and the consequent excess of land put into crops, has been one of the most fundamental causes of the present agricultural depression. This, however, was excusable. No one could foresee the coming of the automobile and the tractor and the agricultural consequences, nor the increasing production of milk per unit of feed consumed, nor did anyone realize the influence of shifts from less productive to more productive

FARMERS MAINTAIN PRIVATE FIRE TRUCKS

Chappell, Neb., —(AP)— Deuel county's 40 farmers have a fire department—a second hand touring car body mounted on a truck chassis.

The county is divided into districts with a "chief" in charge of each.

When a fire is reported to a chief he notifies the district telephone operator and all other districts are notified. The farmers drop their work to fight the blaze.

crops per acre, and similarly in the case of farm animals, upon the area of agricultural land needed.

"Moreover, prior to the World War no adequate evidence existed of the rapid approach of a stationary population; and the downward trend in per capita consumption of meat and milk from the beginning of the century to the beginning of the war indicated, an increasing pressure of population on the food supply."

FARM BUREAU TO CELEBRATE BIG HOLIDAY FRIDAY

Annual Picnic Will Be Held At Fair Ground In Amboy, Fourth

The Lee County Farm Bureau will hold its annual picnic on the Lee County Fair Grounds July 4, at Amboy. All Farm Bureau members, their friends and the general public are invited to participate in this program. The committee has not as yet definitely announced who their speaker will be, but he will be a man who is well known in this district for his friendship to agriculture.

There will be a complete sports program for the children, the young men and women, and older men and women, consisting of stunts, games, races, tug-of-war, horseshoe pitching, baseball and auto driving contest.

Auto Driving Contest.

One of the features of the sport program will be the auto driving contest sponsored by the I. A. A. to promote safe driving and assist in preventing auto accidents. This contest will be put on with the aid of one of the men from the Chicago office. All men and ladies entered in this contest will be judged on the various phases of driving to include examination on fundamentals of driving which consist of 10 questions: parallel parking, parking a car between two other cars, judged on time it takes to go in, time to get out, gracefulness, ease of handling, accuracy and final placement.

The third event will be driving through obstacles and the fourth, car inspection and entering and leaving a garage. This has to do with the steering gear, general mechanical conditions, ease of handling, precaution and carefulness. The fifth consists of break tests.

Ball Game

The Lee County team will play Jo Davies County immediately after the speaking in the afternoon, about 2:45 to 3:00 o'clock. Jo Davies County won their first game from Lee County at Woodbine, three weeks ago. The game was somewhat disputed, because of certain decisions, but the visitors should furnish excellent competition for the local team. The game will be played at Lee Center.

Bureau to Have Concession

The Farm Bureau has turned all concession privileges over to the Home Bureau, which will be an excellent means for them to earn some funds for their organization. They will serve sandwiches, pie, coffee, ice cream, cold drinks, candy, etc. They will also sell coffee in quantity, so if you wish coffee for your picnic dinner, bring your container and you can get hot coffee at the Home Bureau stand. Every Home Bureau member should feel a responsibility for the success of this undertaking.

Limestone Given Away

Dolese & Shepard Company of Chicago are donating a car of limestone to be given away at the picnic. Every Farm Bureau member will be asked to register at the picnic, and the lucky number will draw the car of stone. This is absolutely free, excepting the one who receives the car will be required to pay the freight on it.

Ogle Wool Growers Club For Shipping

Several Ogle County farmers who did not sell their wool early to local buyers have clubbed together to ship their wool to the Cooperative Wool Marketing Corporation organized as a part of the Federal Farm Board system. The Illinois Agricultural Association and the local Farm Bureau are cooperating with the National Wool Marketing Corporation to provide a better market for wool than has been afforded by previous methods of selling. One of the advantages of this cooperative marketing plan to the farmer who produces wool of good quality is that the wool is graded and sold on its merits. If it is good wool it sells for more money than if it is poor wool, whereas most local buyers generally pay the same for all kinds.

Ogle County farmers are shipping their wool from Oregon, Tuesday July 1. If there are any others who did not receive notice and wish to ship their wool through the cooperative pool they may notify the Farm Bureau and receive information as to when they may bring it in. The wool will be shipped direct to Boston and upon receipt at the warehouse their checks will be sent to the growers at the rate of 18 cents per pound as a part payment. As soon as the wool is sold by the pool the balance of the returns to the grower will be paid less the marketing cost.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, July 1.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat decreased 2,118,000; corn decreased 1,718,000; oats decreased 812,000; rye decreased 17,000; barley decreased 278,000.

Nurses will find Record Sheets at the B. F. Shaw Printing Co. 11

Be Certain and be Safe

Summer finds more motorists on the highways than any other season of the year. In summer, therefore, there is an increased need for attention in the avoidance of crossing accidents.

Our railroad is sensitive to its share of responsibility for safety at crossings. A campaign to avoid crossing accidents is under way the year round. In addition, we are conducting this year, as in previous years, a special summer safety campaign. Our enginemen, trainmen and yardmen are pledged to use every effort to avoid crossing accidents.

The major responsibility for safety at crossings, however, rests upon the individual motorist. That is common sense. To bring trains to a stop at every highway crossing is plainly out of the question. The efficient accommodation of the nation's travel and commerce will not permit that. On the other hand, every motorist can assure his own absolute safety at crossings by being cautious. Such caution requires at the most only a few seconds' delay, and motorists owe it to themselves and their families, to the community and to good citizenship to make this short investment of time in the interest of safety.

Human life and happiness are too precious to be thrown away by carelessness at crossings. Humanity, duty and self-interest unite in opposition to such fatal gambling. Be certain and be safe!

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. DOWNS,

President, Illinois Central System.

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCE

DODGE EIGHT MILEAGE MARATHON

AND DODGE NATIONAL DEMONSTRATION MONTH

Thousands of owners of the Dodge Eight-in-Line are acclaiming it the greatest performer and the finest example of Dodge dependability ever produced by Dodge Brothers.

To get an accurate measure of the dependability of this car—its stamina—its economy—just what total mileage it can achieve—Dodge Brothers announce a Dodge Eight Mileage Marathon.

A Dodge Eight-in-Line sedan selected from stock starts from Detroit. It will be driven back and forth across the country from coast to coast—over all sorts of roads in every part of the continent—until it literally can be driven no longer. We confidently expect that the total mileage attained will startle the world.

To give every motorist a first-hand acquaintance with the luxury and sparkling performance of the Dodge Eight-in-Line, a Dodge National Demonstration Month will be held during July.

You are cordially invited to come in and drive the Dodge Eight-in-Line. Thrill to its flashing acceleration—its sureness and steadiness on the road—its ability to do the difficult without effort. Test its internal hydraulic brakes. Experience the luxury of its beautiful, safe and silent Mono-Piece Steel Bodies.

Here is a car that is going to be driven across the continent as no car has ever been driven before. Learn from that what a sound car it is—learn from your own experience what a glorious performer it is.

POULTRY and EGGS "Quality Pays"

Due to lack of buying power, all commodities are lower this year. We have the largest crop of poultry and eggs to market this year that this country has ever had.

Storage houses are full of ordinary eggs and the small, undersirable chickens.

There probably will be an over-production of the undesirable poultry and eggs, but not enough of the quality products.

We have been unable to fill orders for our top grade poultry and eggs.

Both poultry and eggs are sold under brand direct to eastern retailers.

Your support in giving us such a heavy volume this year enables us to pay you more than you have ever received before.

The farmer who has quality eggs and poultry this year—(and has a market for it)—is receiving more for his product than ever before. If you knew of some of the low paying prices there were in the State today, you would appreciate the fact.

We have told you time and again that it is impossible to get best results unless your flock was properly managed. This means good houses, sanitation, good stock, and plenty of feed, properly balanced.

Some farmers who are properly managing their flocks are not getting the profit they should due to poor care of eggs after they are laid and marketing their chickens at the wrong time and not being careful enough in the way they bring them to the market.

EGGS. During the summer and fall your flock lays a much poorer, weaker-bodied egg than in early spring. Starting about May 1st we candle very close for heated, shrunken, watery, weak-bodied eggs. All the above is caused by poor feed, heat, or held too long before marketing.

During the summer and fall we find more large clean eggs that grade as No. 2, on account of poor interior quality than we do small and dirty ones.

Eggs that are held in a kitchen or a porch, or in a shed, sometimes become heated in one day. To get best results, selling on a grade, you should gather eggs from nests at least twice daily, put in a very cool place, and market twice weekly.

Eggs must be held in a temperature below 60 degrees, or they will become heated and weak. Good cool basement or cellar is an ideal holding place. Egg containers should always be off the floor a few inches so as to not draw moisture. Eggs that are damp, wet, or eggs that have been washed are No. 2 eggs.

Always deliver eggs in a case. Keep case, fillers and flats dry and clean.

Cover your eggs on way to market so as to protect them from heat, dust and rain.

POULTRY. Cull laying flock often and market the non-producers. No need to hold for higher prices this year. Full feed your growing flock a balanced ration so as to get quick growth. The demand is going to be for the roasting chicken—(four pounds and over)—and you should get them on the market before the fall rush. Why hatch early chicks if you are not going to give them proper care? Early hatched chickens are the most profitable if properly managed, but the late-hatched will be more profitable if full-fed when the early-hatched chick is underfed. Every fall we have different farmers with the same breed, hatched at the same time, bring poultry to us the same day. One farmer will have 6-pound chickens, the other 3-pound chickens. The difference is between good and poor feed and care.

Always deliver poultry in a coop, rather than in sacks or with legs tied. You will always have a heavy shrinkage between farm and market on tied or sacked chickens, besides the chance of death loss.

Our quotations are for healthy, full-fleshed chickens that are free from feed. Crippled, chickens, swelled heads, swollen joints, roup, or those that are not in full flesh are not marketable.

Do not try to sell chickens that you would not eat yourself. This year quality will pay.

GOV. EMMERSON GAVE ADDRESS FOR GOVERNORS

Envisioned A Greater
Midwest In Coming
Quarter Century

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 1.—(UP)—A vision of even greater development and progress of industry in the middle-west in the next quarter of a century as compared with the last twenty five years was pictured to the annual conference of Governors, in an address by Governor L. L. Emmerson of Illinois here today.

While the past quarter of a century has witnessed an unexpected development, the next twenty five years will write a story that we of today can hardly visualize," he said. "Today, the great railroads of the nation converge in this territory, ribbons of concrete reach out to every section of the nation, while from Chicago airplanes point north, south east and west."

Emmerson declared that the State of Illinois has spent to date a quarter of a billion dollars in construction of hard roads "and we expect to continue in that work until every hamlet in Illinois is linked with our great statewide system of paved roads."

Chicago Wonder City
Chicago, Emmerson declared, is the "wonder city of the world" and cited its transportation and manufacturing advantages concluding his speech by extending his fellow governors a welcome to Springfield, which he described as the "national shrine of Abraham Lincoln."

Diversification of industry must be given credit for no small part of the "marvelous development of the great midwest during the past twenty five years," Emmerson declared. "In the mid-west will be found the world's centers of five great industries—automobile production, meat packing, furniture manufacture, shoe manufacture and the production of agricultural implements," he said. "Add to these, road machinery, clay products, clothing, glass, iron and steel products, limestone, lumber products, medicines, flour and paint, and you still will not have begun to tell the mid-west's story of industrial development."

"The prosperity of any section depends in a large measure upon its transportation, and to railroads, highways and airlines, we are now adding a fourth—that of water. The canalization of the Ohio river is being completed, linking it to the Mississippi and opening a direct water route to the south."

"Illinois has almost completed the link between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi and Congress has appropriated the funds necessary to complete the project. President Hoover already has pledged himself to development of the upper Mississippi and the Missouri rivers, and when these projects shall have been completed the mid-west shall be almost completely linked together by a great waterway system which will open the markets of the world to the manufacturers and farmers of that section, by cutting down delivery costs."

Emmerson referred to the "present slump in business" as due to the "mental attitude of the nation."

Must Forget Crash
"It will not end until we forget the stock market crash and remember that the country lost not a single penny of real value in that slump," he said. Every loss sustained was a loss of imaginary values, which were created by speculation, and which in reality did not exist.

"At the end of the market debacle, we had just as much coal in our mines, just as much fertility in our soil, and just as much productivity in our factories. Individuals who had purchased at top prices lost to those who had sold, while those who bought at low prices and failed to unload, lost imaginary paper profits. But in the final analysis, the nation as a whole lost nothing in real wealth of purchasing power, because for every loser there was to be found somewhere along the line a profit taker."

"However, a mental reaction set in, which, traveling in a cycle, cut consumption and then production. When we forget the stock market losses, and remember that the basic prosperity of America hasn't been affected, then business will pick up and conditions improve."

New York Planning Welcome For Bobby

New York, July 1.—(AP)—The Emperor of Golf, Bobby Jones, will come home tomorrow to a welcome such as no golfer before him ever has received.

A celebration of a size that ordinarily is reserved for trans-Atlantic fliers, returning war heroes and foreign dignitaries, has been arranged when Bobby steps off the S. S. Europa on his return from England where he won the British amateur and open championships.

In the crowd that gathers to do him honor as a great sportsman will be hundreds of friends from his home-town of Atlanta. A "Bobby Jones Special" steamed out of Atlanta yesterday with a train-load of the golfing wizard's admirers.

Under plans arranged by Grover Whalen, New York's official greeter, and interested Atlantans, Bobby will be taken off the Europa at Quarantine on the municipal tug Macon. The city will have a chance to hail a golfing hero on an automobile ride up Broadway. Mayor Walker will give the metropolis' official greeting at City Hall.

After that, matters will be in Bobby's own hands. He will go to Minneapolis for the national open championship to be held at the Interlachen Club July 10-11-12 in a few days.

Dixon Pro Enters Morrison Tourney

On next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the four golf professionals, Montrasser of Oregon, Spencer of Dixon, Holebrook of Clinton and Donovan of Morrison will match their ability at playing golf on the Morrison course.

This looks like a "battle royal" and fans are looking forward to seeing how it should be done.

CLOUD PAINTING BEAM
Roanoke, Va.—(UP)—The songster may be painting the clouds with sunshine but Jesse Steele, Jr., youthful Roanoke inventor, hopes in all reality soon to be painting the clouds with pictures. The Air Males "Take Off"

Here's what the well-underdressed air males will wear this summer for dives through the clouds. This picture shows how Johnny Kyrle, left, and Dick Merrill, plane clothes men on the New York-Washington-Atlanta air mail line, will dress when they pilot Uncle Sam's postal service at high altitudes. Heat from the engines of their planes has made this sky-bathing attire necessary.

Anamosa, Ia. Garageman Arrested For Death Of Officials

Cedar Rapids, July 1.—(AP)—Emmett Peacock, Anamosa, Iowa, garageman and former inmate of the state reformatory, was held in the Limn county jail today as a suspect in the fatal shooting of Sheriff Fred Sweet and Marshal Aaron Bailey at Washington, Iowa, last week.

Sheriff John Bodenhofer, Jones county, who arrested Peacock at Anamosa yesterday morning, said that William Bailey, night watchman at Washington and the only person who saw the killer walk from the Sheriff's office after the shooting, identified Peacock as the man who fired the shots. Bodenhofer quoted the night watchman as saying, "I know you're the man," when he faced Peacock in Sheriff Harry Manchester's office here.

It is said, however, that Peacock denied Bailey's accusation and declared he could give an alibi for his whereabouts last Wednesday night and Thursday morning. Bodenhofer said the suspect was calm and unruffled by Bailey's statements.

Remembered Voice The Sheriff also asserted that when Peacock walked into the room, Bailey jumped to his feet and shouted, "There is the man who shot at me. I know he is the man. I never could forget his voice and I could not be mistaken."

The night watchman was upset that other officers had to force him back into his chair. Late last night he returned to Washington where no one but his immediate family was allowed to see him because of his nervous condition.

Finger prints taken from the car which the killer used to escape from Washington have not been developed sufficiently to permit a comparison with Peacock's, Sheriff Bodenhofer said.

No charges have been filed against Peacock at Washington, according to Edna C. Purvis, clerk of Washington County Court.

DANCING JUDITH

by CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH GRANT, beautiful artist's model, shares her Greenwich Village apartment with CHIMMY MORLEY, a lovely girl whose mind has been a blank ever since her lover, ALAN STEYNE, disappeared seven years ago. Steyne returns suddenly, Chimmy fails to recognize him, and he and Judith fall in love. He tells Judith he never loved Chimmy and never knew Chimmy loved him; but when Chimmy's memory finally returns and she recognizes him he feels in honor bound to ask her to marry him. Judith, to get out of their way, accepts the offer of rich BRUCE GIDEON, who is infatuated with her, to become a star in a musical show he is to promote, and starts studying dancing. BASTIEN DUMONT, a young artist who loves her, tells Steyne she is "getting in Gideon's clutches" and Steyne tries to warn her against him; but Judith feels lonely and tells Steyne to mind his own business.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

A WEEK later Bruce Gideon came to Guarvanter's house and found that Judy had just finished her lesson for the day.

"I came to find you, Judy," he said, after greeting the maestro. "The big Russian ballet opens to-night, and have a box. I thought you would like to come."

"How gorgeous! How kind you are!" she replied impulsively.

"That's sweet, then," he followed her out into the street. His big car was waiting there. "Where are you going?" he asked her.

"To Mr. Stornaway's."

Stornaway had suddenly asked for her services again. She liked sitting for him better than for any one else, except Max Dickhead, of whom she was really very fond, for all his rudeness and his exacting ways.

"Let me drive you," Gideon said. For the first time she hesitated. "You must be tired and hot and you will catch cold," added the soft voice.

"Thank you very much. You are very kind."

And Judy got into the car.

She reached home about half-past six, and found Chimmy waiting for her in some excitement.

"Oh, Judy, how late you are! We hurry up and dress. Alan has seats for the first night of the Russian ballet—boxes! He's taking us out to dinner first—a real nice dinner at the Malaya!"

Judy shook her head.

"Sorry, darling; I'm booked."

Chimmy's face fell.

"Oh, Judy, it can't be anything so important as the Russian ballet!"

"It is the Russian ballet, pet. I'm going with Mr. Gideon."

"Oh, how unfortunate! Alan will be disappointed. Are you dining anywhere?"

"No, Mr. Gideon is calling for me here at eight o'clock."

"Then come to dinner at least, Judy."

Judy could hardly refuse. She dressed quickly, and when Alan came to fetch them she was ready.

The dinner at the Malaya was rather a silent affair. Chimmy had explained to Steyne that Judy had already accepted an invitation from Bruce Gideon. Alan made no comment.

Neither of the girls wanted to eat. Steyne was hungry, having been for a tramp in the country after several days of unsuccessful effort at the art school. His appetite was almost the only topic of conversation. Judy looked about it, and Chimmy gently encouraged him to eat. Over the coffee they grew more gay, and Judy forgot the time. She started up at a quarter to eight.

"My, I shall be late! I must get back!"

Steyne rose, too, and bent and whispered something to Chimmy.

"Yes, that's a splendid idea!" she exclaimed. "Why didn't we think of it before? I'll stay here for a minute or two, Alan, and then I'll walk over to the theater. It's only a few steps. It's not worth while my coming all the way back."

Steyne assented and paid the bill. Then he followed Judy out of the restaurant.

"I'll drive you back, if I may," he said. "I'm going back to see if Clara Jenks is at home and would like to see the show. It's a pity to waste our third seat."

"Oh, she'll love it!" Judy cried. "I do hope she's there!"

In the cab they hardly spoke. Judy felt a little frozen by Alan's attitude. His voice was the essence of polite friendliness. She concluded that she had offended him beyond pardon the other day. Indeed, she had been very rude and flippant; but then, he shouldn't have interfered with her.

HE asked her how she was getting on, and she said, "Very well." She asked him what he was painting, and he told her he had again come to the conclusion that he couldn't paint at all. He was thinking of giving it up and going in for farming.

Judy said she was looking forward to the fancy-dress ball at the Lemon Grove, 10 days from that very day. It was to be a real artists' and models' ball, like the famous Julian's ball in Paris. What was he going to wear?

He didn't know. What was she going to wear?

Oh, she wasn't sure, but a Columbine was the cheapest, she thought. She had quite decided that Chimmy ought to go as Diana. That was what everybody who knew her likened her to. Chimmy thought the costume too scanty, but Judy was trying to persuade her.

She saw Alan frown slightly, and the low notes of taps sounded softly through the trees.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

NEWS FROM CAMP

Camp Amos Horton, June 30.—A group of 59 excited boys entered camp yesterday for the start of the second period. The first week boys left early in the morning, and by 10 o'clock the camp was fairly well filled with new Scouts. Rockford leads in the number of boys in camp with Prophetstown second, and Morris third. Troop 6 of Rockford has 16 members present has the largest single delegation.

As soon as the boys had finished registering, they were examined by the doctors and assigned to camps. Camp Amos Horton is divided into three separate camps arranged on the troop basis. Each camp has four tents, one for each patrol, and a scoutmaster's tent. The boys elect patrol leaders and a senior patrol leader, who officiates at camp, like they do in their own troop at home.

The Scoutmaster and his assistant are in direct control of their own troop, but have very little contact with the other large group for mess, and activities, such as swimming, handicraft, and games. The keenest of competition exists between the three camps, and there is also inter-camp rivalry between the patrols.

The chicken dinner yesterday noon was the first meal the boys ate in camp, and if their hearty applause for the cook can be used as a measure of their idea of the quality of the food, it can be said that the dinner was excellent. After dinner the mess was argued, and one-third of the boys grained some of the dishes, but they soon pitched in willingly, which is one of the marks of a good camper.

A short church service was held in the afternoon, with each member of the staff participating.

The camp director, Deliver, sent the message of the "Team Service."

The boys were allowed their first swim at 4:30. To say that they enjoyed it is putting it mildly. When the whistle blew for all out, the shouts of protest were many and loud, and it took an extraordinary long time to get them out.

The Sunday campfire was still put on the campfire, and made themselves acquainted with all of the boys. Gunner Benson of Sterling and Howard Todd of Oregon provided the amusement of the evening with a comical skit of conversation and music. At 9:30 the campfire was over, the boys were in their tents, and the low notes of taps sounded softly through the trees.

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Compton will have free motion pictures on Wednesday evening, July 2, through the courtesy of the business men. The picture will be shown on the business street, and it is planned to have these once a week on Wednesday evenings throughout the summer months.

F. E. Banks, former resident of Compton, and brother of J. W. Banks of this place will lead a force of twelve men on an expedition to establish a camp on the top of Mt. Whitney, Calif. Mr. Banks is foreman in the Forest Rangers Service, and last year succeeded in making his camp at a 12,000 foot level on Mt. Whitney. Mr. Banks also informs us after the camp has been made on the top, which is at the 14,000 level, plans are under way to make a trail to the top.

Plans drawn by the poultry show superintendent, E. G. Horner, chief poultryman in the State department of agriculture, call for many rows of exhibition coops extending 400 feet down through the central section of the building. The area thus occupied by prize exhibits of poultry, pigeons, rabbits and caviar, will be bordered by displays of poultry farm equipment to convey to poultry farmers, the current information relative to the types and forms of poultry plant accessories suited to their requirements.

The poultry department displays will include all forms of standard bred domestic fowls, pigeons of the utility, fancy and racing home classes, rabbits of every known breed and varieties, and sundry other forms of pet stock.

The old poultry building, and the adjacent stables which in former years housed the overflow of entries, will be utilized for the exhibition of the four-H club department.

The removal of the displays of exhibit lines, into one location, the fair management asserts, will give the public a much better opportunity to view the exhibition than was possible in the former crowded conditions.

Mr. A. J. Bernardin and Miss Ruth Card entertained with four tables of bridge at the Bernardin home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Mary Carnahan, Mrs. Mae Bradshaw and Mrs. L. M. Corn were awarded the prizes. A delightful luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Joshua Wolford and John Myrtle visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilmore for over 8 Saturday and Sunday.

A. C. Schneider will break ground this week for a new bungalow to be built on the lot formerly owned by Joseph Gehant. Mr. Schneider acquired the lot Monday morning, and has his plans for five rooms and a bath, which he hopes to have completed by this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Archer are leaving with their son Clifford G. Archer and wife of Dixon, for Kauai Wednesday morning of this week. They will visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Lamb at Stafford, Kan., and also Mr. and Mrs. William Lamb, of Los Angeles, Calif. who are there at the present time. This is Clifford G. Archer's annual vacation from his duties as city letter carrier of Dixon.

An impacted tooth is one fixed in such position as to prevent its coming through in a normal manner.

The lower third molar is the most frequently found impacted tooth. Not only is its removal to be thought of from the viewpoint of the dental or oral surgeon but the orthodontist and general practitioner must realize the part it can play in tooth movement.

as well as systematic disturbances which it can bring about.

It has been demonstrated that a pathway leads from the area of this tooth to the tonsillar region, and drainage of infection through this passageway from bone surrounding an impacted third molar can infect tonsils.

Many times the inferior dental canal, which carries the main trunk nerve artery and vein to the lower jaw, runs close to this tooth and in fact can be impinged upon by it.
There are cases on record where this same nerve artery and vein pass through root formation, this impinge-ment giving rise to neuralgic pains which can be either manifested as frontal headaches or headaches in the side or back of the head. Eye conditions, pain in the ears, or even severe mental disorders can be the result of the impaction.

The impacted third molar can assume many shapes and positions. The four principle types are Horizontal, Vertical, Mesio angular, Disto-angular. The two latter types mean that the crown portion of the tooth lies either toward the front of the mouth at an angle or backward away from the front of the mouth, at an angle.
This will be shown by the x-ray pictures which should always be taken before attempting to remove the tooth. These pictures will also show whether the tooth is on the surface or submerged, for the older the patient is the more difficult the removal due to increased density of bone.
The size of the crown is to be carefully taken note of, and the formation of the roots—whether fused, separated, straight, curved, hooked, bulbous, spiral, or possibly fused to the bone itself.

Extreme care must be used in the removal of an impacted third molar.
Its position in the jaw, its root formation, nerve impingement if any, whether or not it is submerged or above the bone, the amount of infection surrounding it, are all fundamental questions in insuring its scientific and correct removal.

9000 MILES

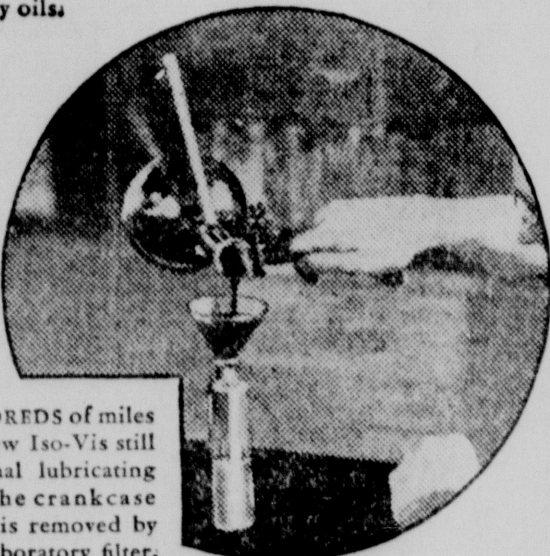

of the hardest driving

and a dirty finger

tells the story

IT IS EASY to remove the carbon formed by this new type oil. Moreover, the amount of carbon left by New Iso-Vis is only a fraction of that deposited by many oils.

AFTER HUNDREDS of miles of driving, New Iso-Vis still has its original lubricating value when the crankcase dust and dirt is removed by this special laboratory filter.

PUSHED ALONG at a fast clip, this engine had reeled off 9,000 miles at a dizzy pace. This torturing test of New Iso-Vis verified these facts that also had been brought out by hundreds of laboratory experiments.

1. The carbon formed by New Iso-Vis is actually less than half that of many oils and the carbon it forms is easily removed. This means a big saving to motorists in time, trouble and money.
2. New Iso-Vis is proof against crankcase dilution trouble by virtue of its patented process of preparation—making it the only oil that will not thin out in your crankcase.
3. New Iso-Vis lubricates effectively at the highest point on your temperature gauge. It has a greater lubricating range than most oils.
4. New Iso-Vis answers more closely than any other oil the exacting lubricating requirements of the modern high compression engine. No sacrifice has been made on any one requirement to give it a high rating elsewhere.

Back of this improved motor oil is a new refining process. Engineers worked more than a year to produce this wholly distilled oil. New Iso-Vis, in contrast with most other oils, contains no undis-tilled parts of the crude. Notice it is clear amber in color.

There is no better oil for the fine motor car of today. Any Standard Oil dealer or service station attendant will drain and fill up your crankcase with New Iso-Vis.

New ISO=VIS

Motor Oil

The New Polarine also is produced by our new refining process—giving it a degree of lubricating efficiency which we believe is exceeded only by the New Iso-Vis. The price is 25c a quart.
